

NORTHERN TRIANGLE OF CENTRAL AMERICA IS SHAPING UP TO BE A NEW ECONOMIC FORCE IN LATIN AMERICA

Government agencies determined that bilateral trade between Honduras and Guatemala has experienced a 7.1% growth as a consequence of the Deep Integration Process towards the Free Transit of Goods and Natural Persons between the Republics of Guatemala and Honduras. Through the new processes and punctually the use of the Central American Single Invoice and Declaration (FYDUCA), the border crossing time has been reduced to less than fifteen minutes.

This integration process will be strengthened with the incorporation of El Salvador, increasing the possibilities of generating trade and attracting investments with access to around 32 million consumers. We hope that in 2019 the integration of El Salvador to the customs union will be accelerated, adapting the internal customs processes through the road map that the corresponding governmental entities are developing.

This integration process will be strengthened with the incorporation of El Salvador, increasing the possibilities of generating trade and attracting investments.
